"Well, Mister President, you are on the inside in this place, looking cut, and the rest of the world is on the outside, looking in. What is the most interesting thing about the residency from your viewpoint?"
"The power of decision. The knowledge that I, by virtue of the position hold, can decide matters that are of moment to our people and to the rest of the world. With that, of course, comes the tramendous sense of responsibility; but that is the most interesting thing-pairfully interesting at times-painfully!"

And he went on animatedly: "I discover that I am not relying en-tirely on any present situation when I am called on to make those important decisions. By that I mean the influence which directs me isn't entirely the present influence—the nfluence exerted by the particular et of circumstances at hand-but is culminative influence predicated on nformation I have secured in former imes, of former circumstances, and

"The thing that has most impressed me about the presidency the man in it," I said.

A Lonely, a Solitary Place.

"Yes," the President replied; "It is necessarily solitary. Human nature is so constituted that a position of advantage invariably is utilized by the person occupying it. A President can have no lytimates; because, no matter how unselfish those intimates may be at the beginning, inevitably they will seek to take advantage of that intimacy before the end. A President has so much to give, you know; and good resolutions of unselfish behavior cannot withstand the pressure of the temptation to ask for something on an opportunity providng on an opportunity pro-

By that I mean that many a man who comes into public life hampers his true development by his devotion to patronage hunting, and his limitations thereby, more than in any other way. They spend their time running to set a job here and a job there.

"Take the postmastership of any of our large cities, for example. When one of those contests for appointment is on you would think, to hear the

If I want to go on the Mayflower I can't go as Woodrow Wilson, seeking a litle recreation; but I must go as the President and be riped over the side and have the officers standing stiffly round, and all that.

And it is so everywhere. Some day I hope to get a chance to visit some of the interesting places in this town and see the sights. I can't do it now, because the minute I stick my head into a public building they turn out the guard and I can't see any thing for the crowd of officials surrounding me. It's maddening! "They have recently adopted some

And yet, I venture to say, the only concern of the great mass of the people over the postmastership of one city is that they get their mail promptly and that the office is administered honestly and efficiently. Let me repeat: If patronage could be eliminated we should have a much broader, more patrotic, more capable and more useful set of legislators.

Lawyer Was Infatuated With Woman Who Took Poison When Courting Wife.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.-New facts disclosed today in the Rogers drama were that, although Mrs. Anna Roquemor Rogers, the first wife, sued for divorc in Reno, Nev., on the ground of cruelty, the basic reason was jeglousy of Mrs. Ida Walters, now known by the name of Rogers, and that Rogers was infatuated with the young woman at the time he made his rapid courtship and marriage of the elderly Miss Giddings. Miss Giddings at that time lived with partments, at Delina: legal I. H. Fuller, her aged uncle, a wealthy manufacturer of medical goods in Chicage. She was his favorite niece. This uncle, now 84, took a comparatively Grace Robbins' prior claim as his wife young bride two years ago and said: might result in a bigamy charge. If "King Solomon had 600 wives and he is

> TWO MEASURES FOR ECONOMY ADVOCATED

Major in Person Addresses House and Senate in Joint Session on Reform in Judicial Procedure and Proposes Other Legislation

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 7.-The pur hase of a 1000-acre farm in Callaway County to furnish employment for convicts and provide rock quarries from which material for building good roads could be obtained was recommended by Gov. Major today in his biennial mesmended by sage to the Legislature, delivered in person before the House and Senate in joint session.

The two houses met in joint session at 2 o'clock. Today is the first time a Governor's message has been delivered n person before the Legislature. The galleries of the House chamber, in which the joint session was held, were crowded! Nearly every member had a guest with him and the lobby back of the nembers' seats was filled with persons

The Governor devoted a large part of his message to consideration of the ceremony was performed by a priest. labor at the prison. On this subject, a healthful exercise, and not only be of cther employment therefor. The burden of the change should not be made to fall upon any one year, but should be so arranged that the service the State now renders cause of popular education and its various educational ducation and at the same time bring bring and at the same time bring about the desired end of completely abolishing the contract system. The revenue received from the contractors about $750,000 or $800,000 for each biennial period.

Cost of Proposed Change.
"This makes the Penitentiary pracically self-sustaining. If the contract system is abolished completely at once the revenues of the State will necessarily, for a time; be drawn upon for this sum of $800,000 to sustain the Penientiary, which sum heretofore has been sed along educational, eleemosynary and departmental lines. It will neces arily cost, at the lowest estimate, on half million dollars to even start the equipment of plants sufficient to give nployment to the convicts.

"This money, too, must come from the eneral revenue fund. These enormous sums cannot be taken from the rev enues of a single year or biennial period. At the very earliest, it would take two years to build and equip plants, and then the State would be in an experimental stage of the change, with little or no revenue flowing back

"This proposition must be met in fair, epen, candid, business way. If the contract system is to be abolished at work all the convicts upon the roads of the State, then in such event the convicts could be supported out of the good road fund. This fund is sufficient to support the Penitentiary, and if the entire labors of the convicts are to be used upon the public roads free, this being a donation from the State for the construction and maintenance of good roads, then in such an event the good road fund, which arises from the automobile license law and stamp act. could be used to maintain and support the convicts while doing this free public road work. If only a portion of the convicts are to be used and worked ipon the roads free, then whatever umbers are worked thereon could and hould be supported from the good road

"Again, if the Legislature determines to let the burden of the change fall upon a series of years, then, in such an event, the Legislature could provide for the building and equipping of one plant for the first period to manufacture such things as it may designate; and to then equip another plant for another purpose for the manufacture of other things for the second period, and "I would suggest, however, as the a farm of 1000 acres be purchased in the Missouri Valley, across the river from and directly opposite the peniten-tiary, and that the State purchase a ferryboat and ferry the necessary number of convicts to operate the farm over and back daily. This farm should be used for the purposes of truck farming, raising beans, peas, corn, tomaing, raising beans, peas, corn, toma-toes, potatoes, cabbage, beets, greens and many other necessary things."

"The State should have a small can-ning plant on the farm and can the ucts, and if the supply is greater than is needed at the penitentiary, sell the surplus to other State institution The refuse or slop upon the farm and the penitentiary could be used to fatten hogs on the farm for consumption or sale. Here intensive farming can be cted to a great profit, and employ two or three hundred men, many of whom might be men who, heretofore.

BRIDE WHO HAS SECOND MARRIAGE CEREMONY

Justin B. Brennan, 19 years old, of 002 Washington avenue and Miss Annuncita Devoto, 17, of 4445 Morgan treet will be married a second time at 5 p. m. today. The Rev. Father Caesar Spigardi, paster of the Italian church at Twenty-ninth and Locust streets, will perform the ceremony. The second marriage was made nec-sary because the parents of the young couple, who eloped to Edwardsville New Year's eve, refused to recognize the legality of the first marrage, and Mrs. Brennan, the bridegroom's mother, snatched the marriage certificate, issued by Justice of the Peace Jasper of Edwardsville, from her son's hands, and tore it to pieces.

Mrs. Brennan and Devoto, father of the bride, later consented to the marriage of the young couple, provided the

BUFORD WINS IN SENATE

Casey Is Selected as Floor Leader in Upper House and Roney in Lower.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 7.-Deals made at the last minute last night be-tween the Major and the anti-Major forces in the Legislature tempered somewhat the fight in the caucuses of the Senate and House Democrats, but concessions were forced from the ad-ministration forces in each body.

ministration forces in each body.

The administration slate was broken in the House in twe instances, and the administration was was forced to accept Senator Michael E. Casey of Kansas City for floor leader of the Senate. tors said this morning that the deals did not carry with them any obuga-tion on the part of the anti-Major or pro-Reed men and that there was no possible chance of the administration scaping strong opposition to many of ts measures.

In the Senate Carter M. Buford was named President pro tem by acciamation and Casey was named floor leader by acclamation. This was the result of a final realization by Casey that he could not be elected, and his withdrawfrom the race. Casey's friends say the administration forces then offered to make him floor leader.

Casey Election as Peace Offering. The offer came after the Casey men had openly threatened if he was de-feated to block administration moves in every way within their power.

They accept Casey's selection as floor leader as a peace offering, which, they say, they are under no obligation to accept, and do not intend to accept. Casey has at all time said that ponents. In the House the deal was somewhat more involved. Thomas J. Roney of Webb City, an anti-administration man, was decided on at the last minute for-floor leader. Roney, nearly a year age, became a candidate for Speaker. He dropped out of the race after a few onths, and is known to have expressed the opinion that the administration's part in the campaign for his opponent, James P. Boyd of Monroe County, was responsible for his failure to obtain enough votes to win. He is known to have been antagonistic to the admin-istration from that time. He is a "dry" and is acceptable to most of the admin-leader until Tuesday night. The administration already was behind the candidacy of Drake Watson of Ralls County. Politicians who were on the inside of numerous conferences held between Tuesday night and last night said that when Roney entered the race the administration forces decided that it would be good roller to the history and the race the administration forces decided that it would be good policy to give him the floor leadership, hoping to overcome his antagonism to the administration. Ronew was offered the floor leadership about two hours before the caucus was convened last night and agreed to ac-

Watson Refused to Withdraw. The administration, however, ran against a snag when it attempted to get Watson to withdraw. He refused to get out of the race and told the administratheir efforts to elect Roney. Roney and Watson went to the mat together, with Philip McCollum of St. Joseph a poor third. Roney won by a vote of 39 36. It had been expected that the deal which elected Roney would elimi-nate Robert L. Marrs of Carthage, which is in the same county as Webb City, from the race for Chief Clerk of the House, it being unusual to select two men for important offices from the Marrs, however, won on his record of efficiency as a Clerk in the last Legis-lature. He had four opponents—Harry G. Mallett of Bartos County, L. F. Far-ris of Wayne County, Edmond McWilliams of Clinton County and Grover Cleveland Huston of Lincoln County. Marrs took the lead on the first balot, with Huston only two votes behind him. Three ballots were necessary to a choice, Marrs receiving 33 and Hus-ton 33 on the third ballot.

Each Democrat to Have Clerk.

The House caucus made liberal provision for clerical hire to far exceed any possible needs of business. The clerical resolution provides for one clerk for each of the 75 Democratic members, and then for various additional clerks, to bring the total number of House employes to 158. Their salaries will amount to 536 a day.

The employes include, besides the necof House employes to 158. Their salaries will amount to $38 a day.

The employes include, besides the necessary officials of the House, doorkeepers, cloakroom attendants, pages and stenographers.

The & Republican members were permitted to name four stenographers, but no clerks. The one Progressive was permitted to name one stenographer.

It is customary to start out with a certain number of clerks and gradually increase the number until from 250 to 300 persons are on the payroll.

The Jefferson City Democrat-Tribune was selected as the official paper of the Legislature to publish its proceedings, and the purchase of 200 copies daily at 5 cents a copy was authorized.

Fight on Committee Chairmanships. Speaker-elect Boyd is facing his first fight with the Democratic insurgent element in the House in the selection of chairmen of committees. Boyd has promised places which now are being demanded by insurgents. Boyd's selections for chairmen as far as they have leaked out are:

ONLY FEW COME TO U. S.

Thinks Cubans Could Not Come in and Missionary Work in Africa Would Suffer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The following rinted in the World under the caption.

Fair Play for Negro Allens." "Through your newspaper I desire to appeal to the American Congress and to the people of the United States in favor of fair play and justice in connecn with the immigration bill now ading before the United States Senate, which by amendment excludes from coming into this country any person of unreasonable and unnecessary. It is unnecessary because only a few thou-sand people of African descent enter this country annually. Practically all of these that do come are from the West Indies and almost none from the continent of Africa. It is evident that many of those who come into this country do not remain permanently, but I find, according to census of 1910 find, according to census of 1910, there were in the United States only 40,319 negroes who were foreign born and only 473 of these had come from Africa. "The bill puts an unnecessary sligh upon colored people by classing them with alien criminals."

Would Bar Cubans, He Says.
"The bill in its present form wo eem to prohibit citizens from the re publics of Liberia, Cuba and Hayti and also from Porto Rico and Santo Dominto, entering this country, thus placing in unnecessary hardship upon these maller countries, which would not be one, in my opinion, if they were stronger. It seems to me that the hould not constitute our sense of justhe nation the more we ought to be sure

"In a personal conversation with a high officer of the Panama Canal Comission he told me that the services of the Jamaican negro were invaluable in building the Panama Canal. Now that we are celebrating the completion of this great canal it seems most unjust and preasonable that the people who conributed in so large a measure toward should be slapped in the face and told at they cannot enter this country even when they meet the requirements of "The passing of the bill will stir up tical purpose.

"An investigation will show that the olored people who have come to this ountry from the West Indian Islands and from other foreign countries have proved as a whole to be a law-abiding, intelligent, industrious class. They have never become anarchists or as a class given trouble to the Government.

"Let me repeat, then, it is unfair at this time, when we are all striving to bring about racial harmony and peace, to raise a question which is calculated to stir up needless strife, and I cannot feel that the best people in the South, where the bulk of the colored people live, approve the passage of any such

"Lastly, the passing of such an unjust ucational work which we are trying to to in Africa and elsewhere

"For a number of years some of the brightest young people from Africa and elsewhere have been coming to this country to receive training to fit them o go back and help their people, and this they have done in an effective manner. All this, I understand, will be

"This measure is not political or sectional and I hope that all people will see the justice of asking Congress to refrain from perpetrating this unjust act upon my race. Certainly we have enough to contend with already without having this additional handicap and discouragement placed in our pathway." couragement placed in our pathway."

Illinoisan, a Republican Now, Says He Expects to Vote for Colonel in 1916.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-

Dispatch.

SPRINGFIELD, Hl., Jan. 7.—Medill McCormick, vice-chairman of the Progressive National Committee and one of the two Progressives to be elected to the Legislature in Illinois, expects to cast his ballot in 1916 for Theodore Roosevelt as candidate upon the Republican ticket. McCormick has flopped directly into the Republican camp. The first announcement that he had joined with the Republicans for caucus upon the speakership left intimations that it might be a temporary agreement. "Mo-Cormick, however, said today that he is now a Republican.

Before making his jump from the Pro-gressive party, McCormick had lunched with Roosevelt at Oyster Bay and in New York and had talked with him over the long distance telephone just prior to leaving the Progressive party. McCormick will not say that Roosevelt advised his action in returning to the upon the most friendly terms with the Colonel and the conferences in person and over telephone preceded his action.

Offical Passing of Party.
Politicians here, acquainted with de tails of the Progressive movement, be-lieve that the action of McCormick, marks the official passing of the Progressive party. McCormick occupied a eculiar position in the organization. While George W. Perkins was keeping more or less in the background and keeping his check book more or less open, while the Pinchot brothers and "Bill" Flynn and Gov. Johnson of California were much in the foreground, acCormick was right alongside of Roosevelt all the time.

McCormick said today that he had contributed about $20,000 directly toward the last Roosevelt campaign. He just smiled when asked what his other expenditures for the Progressive cause had been, but his friends say they probably exceeded $30,000.

McCormick accompanied Roosevelt upon all his campaign trips. If it was found necessary to get a special train to meet an engagement, if additional tomobiles were needed for the countryside campaigning, if visitors had to be taken care of, McCormick was the man to see that all was provided Hence his friends believe that his return to the Republican party is of far greater significance than the jumps recently taken by other Progressive leaders.

Still Expects to Vote for T. R.
It was with great unwillingness that McCormick consented to discuss his ac-tion and its probable effect upon the Progressive party. He said that he pre-ferred to stand upon his announcement nade in the Republican caucus. He orced my action, but I am satisfied. Col. Roosevelt has openly allied himself with a portion of the Republican party in New York. Pinchot has turned Democrat. There is quite a tendency among a number of Progressives to turn to the Democratic party.

"Since I have joined the Republicans from prominent Republicans throughout the country congratulating me upon the stand taken. I still expect to vote for Col. Roosevelt for President in

"Do you understand that Col. Roosevelt will again go into the primaries as a Republican and attempt to carry the direct primary states as he did in 1912?" McCormick was asked.

He said he was not authorized to speak in any way for Col. Roosevelt. but expressed the opinion that Roosevelt, if he so desires, will be able to control the direct primary states by a larger vote than before.

Denies Break With Colonel. McCormick was asked if his jum rom the Progressive party was due in ny measure to a personal or politics eak with Col. Roosevelt. He was emhatic in denial of any break and said that his relations with the Colonel are he same as they have been for severs years. He told of lunching with Roose velt twice recently and said that he has poken with him over the long distan elephone several times recently.

The last conversation by telephone that he recalled was the day before he he would join with the Republicans He was unwilling to give any of the etails of that conversation.

Illinois Was Stronghold. Cormick said that there is a stro feeling among all Progressives that bet-ter results for the nation can be se-cured by again allying with either the Republican or Democratic party. He is of the opinion that the Progressives throughout the country believe that there is no Republican leader in sight who at the present time can successfully compete with Roosevelt and believes that a number of the standpat leaders who opposed the Colonel in 1912 will no present any opposition if the Colone cy again.

In response to questions as to what might be the future action of the Pro-gressive organization throughout the country, McCormick declined to make any comment. With the exception california, Illinois was considered about the strongest Progressive State and friends of McCormick and also of H. S. Hicks of Rockford, a Progressive member of the Legislature who flopped with McCormick, express the opinion that there will be no more conventions held sity budget conducted yesterday in Comptroller Player as the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, resulted in ders' guest at the Art Students' Arabian decision that the administration will not propose a general bond issue in the near future for public improvements that have been estimated to cost about $10,000,000.

The Mayor said he was opposed to bond issue at this time because of general conditions which made it uncertain whether the public would readily support another issue just after the $2,750,-000 bridge bond issue, the $3,000,000 Mill Creek sewer project and the central parkway plan had been put under way within a year. Only a half dozen persons attended the first hearing, which was called at 3 p. m.

Those present said there would have been a larger delegation present had the hearing been conducted at night after business hours. A second hearing vill be conducted temorrow at 3 p. m. Four definite proposals were submitted the board by taxpayers. Col. A. B. Donnelly of the First Regiment asked 20,000 instead of the customary $10,000 for the armory on Grand avenue, which eeds repairs. Arthur Stochr, secretary of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, advocated an appropriation of $8000 at once for excavation work at the Industrial School grounds for a South Side swimming pool, and suggested an appropriation of $35,000 in the next budget for the construction of the pool. Harry Cookendorfer, representing the Electrical Workers' Union, asked that the budget include enough to pay line-men employed by the Fire Alarm and Police Telegraph Department the maximum rate of $4 a day instead of the minimum union scale of $3.50, as proposed. Condition. Jacob R. Schmidt, 56 years old, of 2214 Dickson street, stabbed his wife, Eliza beth, above the heart with a butcher knife yesterday, choked his 16-year-old daughter, Amelia, and slashed his own throat with a pocket knife. Schmid and his wife were taken to the city hos pital. Schmidt was able to be remove from there to a cell today. Schmidt's condition is serious.

Mrs. Schmidt and her daughter left Schmidt a few days ago and went to live at 2611 Madison street. Yesterday Schmidt summoned his wife to the Dickson street house and tried to make her sign over to him her share in the home. She refused, and he stabbed her. He started at his daughter with the knife, but dropped it and choked her. She ran from the house and he slashed

A KIDNEY MEDICINE WITH THOUSANDS OF FRIENDS

Several years ago I suffered from Kidney and Bladder trouble. I was completely run down in health and lost 28 pounds in weight. I suffered nearly all the time. I could not bear to ride in a buggy and could not walk over 100 yards without having to sit down. I could not eat hardly anything. I had several doctors working thing. I had several doctors working on me several years. They tried everything and I did not gain in health. A Swamp-Root Almanac was health. A Swamp-Root Almanac was left at my house and after reading it, I resolved to try your remedy. I obtained six bottles through the druggist and had taken five of them when I was entirely cured. Gained 30 pounds in weight in a few weeks and was a new man in every respect. I always keep Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root in the house, and recommend it to my friends as I have not the slightest doubt of its ability to cure Kidney trouble in its worst form.

Father Now in Prison Has Girl's Mother Held Under Mann Act After Kidnaping.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 7.—How it was that Michael Burke, deserter from the navy, was sent to prison just in time to permit the kidnaping of his daughter from a St. Louis religious indaugnter from a St. Louis religious in-stitution and how the daughter was re-stored to her mother who is now ac-cused of contributing to the child's delinquency, may be determined when Mrs. Grace Masse, arrested in Joplin yesterday on a charge of violating the hann act, comes to trial in the Fed-eral Court.

ann act, comes to trial in the Federal Court.

The arrest of Mrs. Massee appears to be the last move in the warfare which the woman and Burke, her former husband, have been waging over their two daughters, Rosle and Maggie. Several years ago, Burke, with his wife, now known as Mrs. Massee, lived in Joplin. The husband obtained a divorce and the custody of his two little daughters. He brought the girls to Kansas City, and obtained employment. He placed the girls in a Catholic home.

Removed to Los Angeles.

Being annoyed by his former wife's attempts to recover the children, Burke removed to Los Angeles, hoping to take the girls out of her reach. The girls were placed in a convent there, and Burke enlisted in the navy. A woman, believed by the authorities to have been the mother, kidnaped the girls from the convent. The girls were next heard of with their mother, his least.

the mother, kidnaped the girls from the convent. The girls were next heard of with their mother in Joplin.

Burke deserted from the navy and went to Joplin. He applied to a lawyer for assistance, and habeas corpus proceedings were brought to recover the two girls. Rose, the elder, being 18, and wishing to remain with her mother, was permitted to do so. The Court restored Maggle, who was 16, to her faller.

of Justice raided a house in Joplin. It was a house known to the police. There they found, among other women, Mrs. Massee, Rosie and Maggie. Mrs. Massee is charged with transporting her daughters from Los Angeles to Joplin for immoral purposes. The complaint was made by the father, who is still a pris-oner at Portsmouth.

POOR MAN'S BANK LOANED

Report for 1914 Shows That the

The Industrial Loan Co., better know as the Poor Man's Bank, loaned $600,000 in 1914, according to reports submitted at the annual meeting of the board of directors, and although all its loans were unsecured, its losses were only 1 per cent, or $6000. Loans were made to 625 persons and the average amount borrowed by each was a little less than $108.

In the two years the bank has been in existence loans have been made to about 10,000 persons and the average amount borrowed by each person has been about the same as during the past

James Gay Butler, founder and president of the bank, said yesterday the small percentage of loss on the unsecured loans justified the faith in humanity upon which the institution rests. A gratifying fact was that persons returning for a second loan borrowed smaller amounts than at first. The bank's exnce, he said, had demonstrate pay their unsecured loans.

The bank charges 6 per cent interest, which is deducted from the amount of

CHOICE-OF-HOUSE SALE

THIS IS THE ONE ANNUAL EVENT, which the women of St. Louis will recognize and welcome with keenest anticipation and delight. THE ONE event that has become a part of the retail merchandising history of our city-our 7th ANNUAL "CHOICE-OF-HOUSE" SALE of Suits, Dresses, Gowns, Costumes, Coats and Wraps, > whether the former price was $25, $75, $100 or even up to $150. All Go Now at the One Price.

This takes in every remaining garment from the season just past, ages not include Spring goods, although most every garment will be fashionable for the next three or four months.

We will not go into lengthy descriptions of the garments involved. Space will not permit it, and besides, most all

St. Louis women who read this announcement will know what to expect. They know what a Garland $65.00 and $75.00 Suit is. They know what a $75.00 or $100.00 Gown or Costume here looks like. They know what they get here in a Street, Party or Dancing Frock at $45.00, $55.00 and $69.50. They are equally familiar with our Limousine and Theater Coats at $50.00 and $60.00 -our $35.00 to $49.50 Street Coats, and our $100.00 and $150.00 Evening Wraps. So we'll not waste newspaper space (which, by the way, is expensive), nor take your time with descriptions.

Don't let this opportunity pass. Think what it offers; a suit, gown and coat all for $45.00 - less than the forme price of one single garment. YOUR chance. Don't miss to.

There are over 1000 garments involved. The Suits range in price from $25.00 to $110.00. The Dresses and Gowns from $29.50 to $95. The Coats and Wraps from $29.50 to $150.00, in many cases only one or two of a kind.

Come early, as you know the best go first, and remember our rule in these sales-nothing will be held back. The $110.00 suit, the $75.00 or $95.00 gown, the $40.00 and $50.00, the $100.00 or $150.00 wraps will be shown just as cheerfully as those at $25.00 and $35.00. It's your sale. We want you to get its full benefit. Come.

NOTICE No. 1

This price is for the one day only. Any garment remaining unsold at the close of the day will go back in stock at the former price. No mail or phone orders will be filled.

A Durchase of 1000 Overcoats from the Makers of . Clothcraft Clothes-On Sale in the Basement Salesroom

ERE is an Overcoat occasion that will make Famous-Barr Co. the center of the most enthusiastic & vigorous buying of the year tomorrow—a sale which involves the purchase of a thousand Winter Overcoats, the surplus of Joseph Feiss & Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, makers of the nationally advertised "Clothcraft Clothes."

So Important Is This Overcoat Event That Sale Will Be Held in the Basement Salesroom Unly Where Ample Space Is Provided

These Overcoats are expertly made. They are big, roomy, single & double breasted models, shawl or convertible collar styles, in gray, brown & tan, all-wool fancy fabrics. Coats are serge-lined & have satin sleeves, & there are sizes from 32 to 42 chest measurement. Every garment bears the maker's label & guarantee, & each Coat measures up to the high standard of value exacted of all clothes that come into this store.

The most uncommon good fortune it is, then, for men & young men to have the opportunity of choosing from this unrivaled lot of regular $12, $15 & $20 Overcoats, & to have unrestricted choosing Friday & Saturday from a full thousand faultlessly tailored, stylish garments, at......

Always Put "Why" Before "No."
Nor can the words "the defendant appeared on the witness stand in her own behalf" convey the picture of a combination of Mary Pickford and Dorothy Donnelly (in the person of Mrs. Tatum), denying, in the Mineola Courthouse before Justice Crane, the charges brought against her by John Tatum in his divorce action.

The defendant was as youthful looking as the one and as tragic appearing as the other. And to every interrogation that might reflect upon her, she re-plied with swimming eyes, "no"—always taking care to put the "why" before it. apparently.

Testimony against Mrs. Tatum was to the effect that she had Ottman in her omes at Roslyn and in Central Park West until 2, 3 and 4 o'clock in the morning. Also that he in the steamship supply business-turned up as a fellow passenger of hers in a 10 days' cruise to Newfoundland. Again, that she wrote letters to her friend, Mrs. Chalmers, of deceiving her husband.

Mrs. Tatum was the hit of the courtoom-and knew it. She wore a corsetgown of the new castor shadeery tight, and when she was on the stand there, was not a juror re. She was little Miss Injured R. innocence herself. Her hat was a small green one, and impressionistic persons in the courtroom thought her eyes Ethel Bellamy, colored cook at Mrs. Tatum's Roslyn cottage, swore she knew Ottman as "Mr. Jack." She had never seen him in Mrs. Tatum's room, she said, but she had seen him leave the cottage at 2 or 3 a. m. Henry McFarland was a "handy man" about the place. Among his du-ties, he said, was that of going to Ottman's room early in the morning and knocking at the door. But Ottman wouldn't respond to this, he said. Only when Mrs. Tatum said: "Jack, wake up!" would the guest arise. Part of the strength of this testimony was knocked out by the admitted fact that recently McFarland got a job through the influence of a law partner of McManus, who is representing John C. Tatum. Another witness was Mrs. Elizabeth

Simon, also a servant at the Roslyn cottage of Mrs. Tatum. She swore: 'Ars. Tatum cried once when she was packing up Mr. Jack's clothing. She told me she was tired of living as she had been, and said she was going to get a divorce and marry Mr. Jack-

"Did they ever display any affection in your presence?" she was asked.
"Yes. I saw them kissing each other—twice—one night back of the garage at Roslyn—it was dark and I couldn't see anything else."

This was about the end of Tatum's case against his wife. Her defense then egan. The first witness called was acques E. Chalmers, produce merchant, usband of Mrs. Nellie Chalmers, who is named as co-respondent in Mrs. Tatum's cross suit for divorce.

Every interest in the West and South avor the bill because every interest in the West and South would profit by its operation. It would ssure transportation to foreign markets for American products at rates far below prevailing rates and therefore at better prices. It would keep the railroads busy.

The bill provides ocean transportation in the emergency and a foundation for an American vital to our welfare.

A POET'S ALARM CLOCK.

The Rip-Saw Poet, Henry M. Tichnor, reponds to our late lament that nobody has penned a sonnet to the faithful alarm clock. Henry has at least penned an ode. It is rattling verse. It clatters and jingles to the classic, if archaic, Alexandrine of the venerable caken vessel that ing the anti-trust law, public attention should be

Dear to the Rip-Saw Poet's heart are the chimes in the morning that yank him from bed with melodious thrill! Believe him, how sweet is the sound of the warning that yells that's it's time that he hike to the mill. Without it he'd aleep till the sun had arisen—be late to the job that his boss lets him use; be canned, perhaps steal, maybe land in a prison-if the chimes didn't hustle him out of his snooze.

But where is the true inspirational quality? decisive. Driving hungry, jobless men from one place to another, herding them in the cellar of an abandoned jail, doling out a little near-coffee and stale bread, forcing them to risk pneumonia for a bowl of soup and fining them $500 for eating a $6-cent meal and charging it to the Mayor, is a very undecisive way of settling the unemployed problem.

The clatter is tuneful enough, but better adapted to lowlier themes—the cash register, perhaps, or the time clock, or the buzzer that connects with the bar. Although the Judge at Philadelphia admitted that there was proof that the Watch-Case Trust had maintained a boycott, he dismissed the Government's prosecution as unwarranted. The Danbury boycott consisted of an attempt to persuade people in various states not to buy hats made in that town in open shops. The Watch-Case boycott was directed against retail dealers throughout the country. If they purchased goods from any of the trust's rivals or cut prices they were blacklisted and thereafter could obtain no supplies from the trust.

The Supreme Court decided long ago that all that was necessary to fix law-breaking upon the Danbury union was to prove that it was guilty of interstate boycotting. The Court at Philadelphia found that the Watch-Case combine had practiced boycotting for years, and yet held that Federal action against it was without substantial

THE WAR AND THE MOSLEMS.

Mohammedanism seems to have lost its military punch. The Russians tell us they are walking away with the war with the Turks, and recalling what the Italians and the Bulgarians did, we can well believe it. The truth is that for modern military purposes Mohammed will not do at all. Some more progressive prophet than he will have to stand with those people if they are not to be driven into the sea. It has been apparent for some time that whereas Buddha and some others took to modern armament and machinery as a duck takes to water, Mohammed has disposed to fight as he always fought, and is therefore very soon whipped. The Moslems need a great spiritual awakening, we take it.

The Hat Pharmacy

By Lydia Felecia Perkins.

THE little town of Democrat was stopped, and more drummers came, and more goods were left at the drug store, and the man in the hat, within a year, had to enlarge his building to accommodate his thriving trade.

PHYLLIS HACKETT, following her father's injunctions, told her father's injunctions, told her young friends in Empire about the soda water and the phonograph and especially emphasized to the girls the mysterious proprietor, who was just "awfully handsome" and wore his soft hat well over his face. So it became quite the fashion for crowds of young people to come over on moonlit nights to listen to phonograph selections and drink soda water.

The county paper came out with a long article with scare headlines—no names given—of a man who, for some mysterious reason, always wore his hat. It cited other remarkable incidents in history, and wound up in a lurid sea of mixed metaphor and figures of speech, and spoke of "The Black gloves on all occasions. The book of particulars contains 92 type-written pages and cites every instance where players belonging to organized baseball signed Federal League contracts, only to flop back to their respective teams.

While in Chicago last Sunday Vice-President Ward met Rube Marquard, the southpaw hurler of the Giants. The Rube, according to Mr. Ward, declared that he would fulfill the contract that he signed with the Brooklyn Federal League club not so long ago. Marquard also informed Vice-President Ward that he was not under any contract with the Giants and had no fear of any suit that the New York club would bring against him. wane. ### Magee Plays Big Deal.

A deal may be completed in a few days between the Chicago Federal while.

Back to the Band Wagon.

THE double flopping of Caldwell, Wingo and W. Johnson appears to presage a general scramble on the to the Brookfeds for Danny Murphy, the former captain of the Philadelphia Athletics. Magee wired Tinker that he had no intention of parting with Murphy, but would give three players to the Chicago club for Claude Hendrix, the former Pittsburg pitcher. Hendrix is one of the best pitchers now performing in the Federal League and, although there seemed little hope of Magee grabbling him, a deal will probably be fixed up shortly between the two managers. During the course of the day, Magee got into communication with Polly Perritt, the former St. Louis pitcher, over a long distance telephone in Pittsburg. Perritt informed the boy manager that under no circumstances would he jump back to organized baseball. Perrit signed to pitch for the Pittsburg Feds last Saturday, after first being kidnaped by Miller Huggins, manager of the Cardinals, and then by Rebel Oakes, leader of the Pittsburg club. Wingo and W. Johnson appears to presage a general scramble on the part of Federal jumpers to get back in the band wagon. Basing their arguments on the Killifer case, magnates of organized ball expect the Court to sustain the double jump, if the Feds sue. And there's no reason to believe the decision in the first of these cases will not hold in all.

If the O. B. magnates can reach enough of the jumpers, the props will be knocked from under the Feds. THE chief argument used to win back the jumpers is simple. You approach the jumper from behind and whisper in his ear the exclamation "Oh." preceded by the letter D. It works like a charm.

leader of the Pittsburg club.

It was learned today that Manager Robinson of the Superbas is after Armado Marsans, the Cuban outfielder, and may land him with the help of Capt. Huston, who is a personal friend of the player. Marsans signed with the St. Louis Feds last season, but was restrained from playing with the baby league on account of a suit brought against him by the Cincinnati club. If Marsans is willing to return to organized baseball next season, Manager Robinson may secure him in a trade with the Cincinnati club. DAN: Diamond received. it's splendid. ### Polly's Farewell.

Chifeds' Star Pitcher.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—George S. Ward vice-president of the Brookfeds, has returned from Chicago with the bill of particulars filed by the Federal League

Chifeds' Star Pitcher.

He hurried to St. Louis, where he met with "Rebel" Oakes; follied "Sal," his dear old pal, then to the East he fled, and as he hopped aboard the train, these were the words he said:

"It's a long way to Pennsylvania,
It's a long way to jump;
"It's a long way to jump;
"It's a long way to Pennsylvania,
So I'll have to get a hump.
Good-by, "Rabbit" Huggins,
Farewell dear old "Sky."
It's a long, long way to Pennsylvania,
But there I must fly."

The Real Bohemia.

Come to that mythical land; Come where each fellow with cuffs frayed and yellow Will slip you the grimy, glad hand. Come where the "artists" will touch Come where the morals are slack—come to the land of Bohemia,
The land where nobody pays back.

Look Out for the "Train." Ed Koney is said to be getting rest-less. Looks like another trip to St. Louis for "Rebel" Oakes. The "Rebel" had better round up his flock and herd 'em into the branding yen and keep 'em there till the flag drops.

The "Rebel" had better round up for the big deal when: her his flock and herd 'em into the big deal when: here till the flag drops.

Still a Mystery.

The Western Golf Association, at its annual meeting in Chicago next its annual meeting in Chicago next week will endeavor to find out what an amateur is. If successful we trust they will lose no time in enlightening an expectant sporting world. While rummaging around in the realms of amateurism the W. G. A. might socidentally stumble across the Nth power, the fourth dimension or perpetual motion.

In the absence of a better definition we should say offhand that an amateur is one who will not take wooden, tin or counterfeit money of any description whatsoever.

Although the Iron Cross is the sol-dier's reward for good fighting, we take it they are not made out of scrap iron. Now that the Cardinals have succeeded in getting back Ivey Wingo, the next problem that confronts them is how to get rid of him.

If the goose that lays the golden eggs survives the winter of 1914-15 all we have to say is that she is SOME goose. NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Fans are won-dering why the delay in turning over the Highlanders to the new owners, Col. Ruppert and Capt. Huston. That the actual legal transfer has not taken place is admitted. Bill Donovan's signing of Ray Cald-well, however, indicates that the new manager is not being nampered in his work toward building up the team. Has it ever occurred to you, frie eader, how easily a lemon might distaken for a golden egg.

Platt Adams to Be Tried on Professional

The Registration Committee meets at that time and will take up his case. The athlete, his witnesses and the men who preferred the charges against him will

Trap, Baited With Banquet, Failed to Land Pol Perritt St. L. U. Squad Busy

Menu "a la Perritt" and Wines Were All Prepared, to Lure the Former Cardinal Into Coming Back to Fold; but St. Louis Club President Had Previous Date and Couldn't Attend.

By W. J. O'Connor.

VORY hunters of organized baseball had a trap baited, set and ready to ensnare Poly Perritt the other day in Cinciniati, but Schuyler P. Britton, boss of the Cardinals, gummed the deal. boss of the Cardinals, gummed the At least that's the inside 'info' which has been handed out since Miller James Huggins returned unexpectedly from Cincinnati. Here's the story:

Arrangements had been made by Huggins, Garry Herrmann, Manager Herzog of the Reds and Attorney Kincald, all inmates of Cincinnati, to give a dinner in Perritt's honor. President Britton was to leave St. Louis New Year's night with Perritt and also be a guest at the spread.

It is stated that an elaborate menu had been worked out in which one of he dishes was "Chicken a la Perritt." There also was "Perritt de foi gras, "frog legs a la Perritt," with wines of a vintage older than Polly and cordials that were imported before the war.

HUG FAILS TO KEEP DATE IN CINCINNATI

ILLER HUGGINS, who, ac-cording to reports from Cin-cinnati, was to be a guest cinnati, was to be a guest this afternoon at a "love feast" tendered to Ivey Wingo by Charley Herzog and Garry Herrmann, "crossed" the railbirds today by entering appearance at the West End Hotel at 9 o'clock. Hug didn't go to Cincinnati last night, although yesterday afternoon he reserved a berth for Rhinelsand. The report that he was sick also was slightly exaggerated, as he was up and doing today.

Kenneth Mooney, an employe of the local National League club, said at Robison Field at noon that Huggins was leaving this afternoon for Cincy. However, there are no trains for Cincinnati before 9:15 tonight. Two trains pulled out at 12 o'clock, though.

A train for Pittsburg leaves Union Station this afternoon. Polly Perritt is in Pittsburg, the guest of Rebel Oakes.

The beans were spilled. The menu was destroyed and Huggins hurried to St. Louis. The dinner was scheduled for last Saturday night and when Hug learned that neither Britton nor Perritt would attend he rushed to St. Louis, reaching here Monday morning. His presence was not known until Tuesday evening, indicating that even Organized Baseball can do some underground work.

Somebody tipped Reb Oakes off and the Pittsfeds manager hurried from his home in Louisiana, taking Perritt with him to Pittsburg.

Whether Perritt will stay "put" is a guestion, but Manager Huggins now leans to the belief that it is only because of Schuyler Britton's social engagements that Perritt now isn't in the same enviable position Ivey Wingo occupies. Ivey signed with the Feds but disregarded his outlaw obligations as soon as Organized Baseball offered him an increase in salary.

The same program was mapped out for Perritt. Polly is to receive $500 from Pittsburg next season. Hug's scheme was to give him $600 to remain the Cardinals, besides paying him the $900 bonus now being withheld by Britton. But, alas and alack, the deep plot didn't work out.

NEW HIGH RECORDS AGAIN

Prices Close Over Two Cents Higher After an Early Sharp Break-Corn and Oats Also Make Gains.

THURSDAY'S COMPARATIVE FUTURE QUOTATIONS.

Wheat opened a sharp fraction lower on the Merchants' Exchange today, extended its loss to %c, then railied completely when shorts covered contracts. Trade was professional, however, and the aggressive buying for foreign account, which was the incentive for the recent advance, was conspicuously absent in the early session. In the last hours of the market, however, reported exports of over 1,200,000 bu sent prices up in leaps and bounds. The May option soid above $1.35, and established new high records since war was declared, and near the best with gains of over 2c compared with yesterday's finals.

clared, and near the best with gains of over 2c compared with yesterday's finals.

Foreign markets were quiet, and despite open preparations by Italy, which suggested that she would shortly enter the war on the side of the allies, prices abroad were easier. The official Liverpool cable had a beariah tone. It said:

"Easy American cables yesterday and more liberal Plate offers at a decline caused pressure here, and the undertone was easier. Recent buyers were willing to take profits, owing to the recent advance, but their offers were well absorbed. American winters were offered at a decline early, but later became firmer. The general demand appears quieter. Argentine weather is fine, and holders there are less firm."

The movement of wheat to market in the Northwest was fair. Minneapolis had 237 cars, against 253 last week, and 193 last year. Duluth 34, against 31 and 25. Winnipeg 34, against 37 and 78.

Local wheat receipts were 43,200 bu, against 40,300 bu last year. Corn 108,000 bu, against 40,500 bu. Oats 65,300 bu, against 116,600 bu.

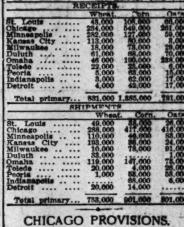

Corn futures were irregular to a fraction lower. Weather was milder over the country, and speculative buying lacked snap. Receipts favored the bears and cash trade was less active. Prices rose with wheat, however, and closed firm at sharp gains. The Liverpool cable said:

"Corn was easier with expected larger."

and Mr. Jarr and their new-found friends, Mr. Bogus of Peoris and Mr. Wilkinson of Selms, Ala., had sone to sleep in the dead car that had been shunted into the car barn.

"I heard one of them say he was from Péoris," replied the astute car starter. "Leave it to me!" It was left to him, and the starter stuck his head in the darkened car and yelled, "All euti Change cars for Peoris."

lared the gentleman from Selma. We must take her a bunch of roses But no flowers could be found and a belated individual carrying two white, woolly pupples, overhearing their resrets at not being able to purchase flowers—Mr. Rangle being insistent that he wanted immortelles and not roses—suggested that dogs were appropriate gifts for a lady. And the full quartet bought the little dogs.

In due time they arrived and paused in front of the house.

"Haven't got a key," Mr. Bogus confessed. "Will have to whistie."

"Haven't got a key," Mr. Bogus confessed. "Will have to whistle."

Whereupon he placed the first two fingers of his right hand in his mouth and emitted a piercing blast.

There must have been a score of husbands abroad upon the night and keyless. For at the sound of Mr. Bogus' whistle 20 front windows went up and 20 bunches of keys came winging down, almost stunning the full quartet. For it seemed there was not a bunch but landed on their skulls.

There was one key on each bunch that fitted the front door. But as it took time to locate those keys, and, as all of the four gentlemen insisted on finding the keyhole, it took some time to enter.

Affast, however, the door opened and the party ascended, Mr. Bogus leading the way.
